

Website Design at Prices Anyone Can Afford

Robinson, Illinois, 2007 February 21 — qrsevlo, Inc. through their Quantum Rift Software Division is now offering website design at make an offer pricing for clients. This is a company policy that has been in effect, and will be in effect indefinitely, so there's no need to rush. As with most website development companies, qrsevlo, Inc. will provide clients with a quote based on their specific needs. Next is where it varies. Clients will then have the option of making a counter offer lower than the quote. After any negotiation, everything will follow standard developmental procedures. The website will be developed, the client will approve or make changes, and final payment will be received.

By allowing clients to make an offer for website development, it guarantees that every business will be able to have a website designed for them, without breaking the bank. At the same time, there is no penalty for making an offer; the website will be designed the same whether the client pays full or partial price. The policy exists to help clients by removing some of the money flow stress that otherwise exists.

All website development comes with submissions to search engines, as well as Google and Yahoo sitemaps at no additional charge. Quote requests can be made on qrsevlo, Inc.'s corporate website, or through Quantum Rift Software's website at <http://quantumriftsoftware.com>.

While e-mail support and changes during development are free, qrsevlo, Inc. also provides phone support and "dictated" web page services for a fee for those clients not wanting to meet in person or e-mail.
